

Your INL Update — Week of Jan. 26, 2009

This is Misty Benjamin with your INL Update...

More than a hundred local inventors will be recognized at INL's 13th annual Honors Banquet. This Friday, INL scientists, engineers and technicians will be honored for their inventions, patents and achievements in 2008 and over the course of their careers.

INL provides the local economy unexpected boosts. Hundreds of visitors attend INL conferences, tours and collaborations in Southeast Idaho each year. Every visit generates income for local hotels, restaurants, car rental companies and recreational sites throughout eastern Idaho.

This week INL activities reach beyond eastern Idaho with Science and Engineering extravaganzas for students in the Treasure Valley. Presentations include INL's Kevin Young, with a hands-on activity that includes satellites and rocketry at Northwest Nazarene and Boise State Universities.

This was your INL Update... you'll find more information at I-N-L dot gov ... including community announcements... and the latest INL News.